IN THE NAME OF GOD

Al-Zahra University Research Group of Indian Studies and the webinar "The first meeting to introduce the book of Indian Studies Research Group" with the aim of improving the scientific level of students in the field of Indian studies with the presence and lecture of translator Dr. Hojjatollah Javani faculty member Al-Zahra University (PBUH) and with the presence of esteemed professors and the scientific association and students of other universities (with the presence of 32 interested people) held on Sunday, January 3, 2014 from 13:00 to 14:31 in the SMS space.

In this meeting, Dr. Hojjatollah Javani first introduced the Research Group of Indian Studies and the activities of the research group with the aim of recognizing the religious, intellectual and historical capacities of India in the field of religions, history and philosophy for scientific-research interactions with domestic and foreign universities. The country paid. In this meeting, Dr. Hojjatollah Javani, translator of Gandhi's book by Bikho Parkh, reviewed and explained the book and the questions raised by students and enthusiasts about the reason for choosing Gandhi's book for translation. The need to know thinkers such as Gandhi and the importance of such works were discussed, then the content of the book and the topics discussed. Mahatma Gandhi by Bikho Parch is published by Oxford Publishing. This book has three important and remarkable features: It has a regular and coherent description of Gandhi and his thoughts. Analysis of the proposed descriptions in which the connection between the thought components of a theorist is evident. A book critique in which the author critically examines and challenges Gandhi's views. Dr. Javani described the influential character of Mahatma Gandhi in the history of India and introduced the chapters of the book. Characters such as Gandhi can be studied, studied and researched. The value and importance of personalities like Gandhi has been in their devotion to humanity. Mahatma Gandhi was the political and spiritual leader of India who led the Indian nation to freedom from colonial rule in the British Empire, he throughout his life rejected the use of any kind of terror and violence to achieve his goals. Dr. Jawani highlighted Gandhi's dream of a nonviolent society and his critical view of the modern world as a hallmark of Gandhi's ideas. Gandhi introduced the nonviolent movement that has influenced many nonviolent resistance movements around the world to this day.
